

An Improvisation Workshop: ON THE SPOT!

*... for all levels, from beginners to professionals
– play together, experiment together, have a blast!*

Using improvisation exercises inspired by theater games, instrumentalists can discover a deeper level of emotional and technical engagement with spontaneous music-making, no matter if they are already expert improvisers in a particular style or students who have never tried to improvise in public at all. Bruce Adolphe, the workshop leader, will inspire and instruct the participants with these exciting and entertaining exercises from his brand new edition of his book The Mind's Ear: Exercises for Improving the Musical Imagination to be published by Oxford University Press this summer.

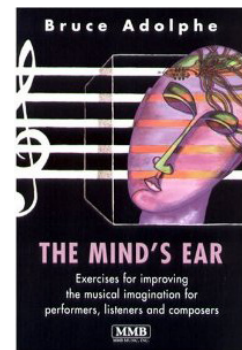

Come learn or just show off! This event is open to the public: audience attend is welcome and encouraged.

Workshop led by Bruce Adolphe.

All ages and levels of experience welcome.

Bruce Adolphe

Location:

BAS BLEU

401 Pine Street, 970.498.8949

Date:

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19

Registration Fee: $10

TIME:

2:30 – 4:00

Registration form available on line!

Or email, director@projectchambermusic.org, with questions.

This event is open to the public and we welcome an audience.
Audience entrance donation of $3 is suggested.

Call, Connect, Change, Contribute

Jephtha Bernstein - Founder and Executive Artistic Director

512-825-4122

www.projectchambermusic.org